

When it Snows

Scrapbook Page Layout from Paper Wishes

Laura Nicholas

Laura's Tip:

Create two pages with two sheets of patterned paper by cutting the papers in half and layering them on each page. Add even more dimension by putting ribbon behind the falling snowflakes across the pages.

Supplies:

- Busy Scrapper's Vacation papers
- Cardmaker's™ Classic Ribbons
- Chocolate Brad Pack
- Zots™
- Foam tape
- Glue stick
- White cardstock
- Computer font, Arial

Instructions:

1. Cut 6"x12" strips of striped paper and snowflake paper. Glue the snowflake strips to the bottom of a piece of 12"x12" white cardstock. Glue the striped strips across the top half of the pages. Cut two 3/4" strips of dark green textured paper and glue across the seams of the papers.
2. Crop photos to 3 3/4"x4" and mat on 4 1/4" strips of white cardstock. Glue the photo strips across the center of the snowflake paper.
3. Cut out alphabet tiles to spell out the title. Glue them to a 1" strip of white cardstock. Add foam tape under some of the letters for dimension. Attach the title strip above the dark strip on the left page. Add brads between words in the title.
4. Cut out snowflake tags and add silver brads. Layer white ribbon over the sheer ribbon and glue to the top of the background pages. Tuck the ends of the ribbon to the back of the page. Foam tape the tags to the ends of the ribbons, at different lengths. Zot™ bows to four of the ribbons.
5. Print journaling on white cardstock and trim into strips. Add mini brads as bullets in the journaling and foam tape to the background page.
